FULL-STACK DEVELOPER

ABOUT

Hello, i'm Lauge. I am 23, live in Copenhagen and currently study my bachelor in Software Development at the IT University of Copenhagen in my 5th semester.

I'm an outgoing person bringing lots of joy and engagement into everything i do. I enjoy great communities and am highly engaged in social activities and bringing people together.

I'm a former Team Denmark athlete in Muay Thai and has always been very dedicated to my craft whether it's sports or tech.

COMPETENCES

I've been working professionally with Web Development and UI Design for more than 3 years and am currently freelancing, studying and creating personal projects.

My skillset consists of a wide range of different programming languages and frameworks. Though, professionally i have primarily worked with:

1. Frontend technologies like SCSS, JavaScript/TypeScript, React, Svelte.
2. CMS systems like Shopify and WordPress developing custom themes and flexible layouts, templates and components.
3. UI Design with Figma.

Being on my 5th semester has given me further hands on experience and knowledge about:

1. Backend Development with C# and .NET, authentication, database design, data structures and algorithms.
2. Software architecture, design patterns and testing.
3. SCRUM, CI/CD, Git.

My technical qualities has matured to the point where i feel equally strong in both frontend as well as backend and therefore look for opportunities within any of the two fields.
